

Satbeams website welcomes SatcoDX users!

You will find here most of the information you were looking for at SatcoDX plus even more.

Our team will do our best to continue providing the satellite community with the best service.

We do count on your support too to make sure that up-to-date information becomes available to everyone as quickly as possible.

If you are hunting for new frequencies and channels, please send your reports to autoscan@satbeams.com or contribute the data online through the web forms.

Thanks everyone for the great support and cooperation!
